

Buttonwood Farm Winery

is a small gem set amidst the splendor of Santa Barbara County's Santa Ynez Valley. Our 39-acre vineyard stretches across a sun-drenched mesa on the eastern portion of our 106-acre property. We started planting in 1983 and now have 33,000 vines, small in the world of wine, but huge to us.

2004 Cabernet Sauvignon Santa Ynez Valley

The 2004 growing season offered plenty of warmth and sunshine, just the right conditions to grow flavorful cabernet sauvignon. After two and a half weeks of fermentation, the cabernet went into 60 and 90 gallon French oak barrels for 26 months of aging.

Sporting flavors of dusty plum and tobacco with a pleasantly dry finish, 2004 Buttonwood Cabernet Sauvignon offers the best in Santa Ynez Valley cabernet: attractive flavors supported by gentle tannins.

Cabernet Sauvignon is the classic red wine. Try it with a classic beef dish like grilled New York steak topped with a dab of garlic butter. Drink now and the next 5 to 7 years (10/2007)

289 cases produced.
