2007 KUNIN WINES VIOGNIER, STOLPMAN VINEYARD

Santa Ynez Valley

This is viognier at its herbaceous best. Instead of being like so many other domestic viogniers that are trying to be chardonnay this really is viognier strutting its stuff. Honeysuckle, jasmine and blood oranges are all up front and on display here, but this is spicy rather than sweet. Perfect for various asian foods, or a new twist on a patio white. (Bryan Brick, K&L). 520 cases made." (3/31/06)

Varietal Composition: Viognier 100%

Vineyard: Stolpman Vineyards – located in Ballard Canyon in the Santa Ynez Valley, Stolpman has quickly become one of the most respected vineyards in the region. This is due to both its unique location and vineyard manager Jeff Newton – one of the most respected grape growers in the state. We source viognier from Stolpman vineyards, as we have since our first vintage

Alcohol: 14.6%
